

Kendall Packaging unwraps a new NOVOFLEX®

In operation since 1948, Kendall Packaging of Mequon, WI with production facilities in Jefferson, WI and Pittsburg, KS is a major supplier of flexible packaging materials. By concentrating on markets requiring complex graphic designs, superior service and flexible scheduling, Kendall is enjoying dramatic success and growth. Their recent purchase of a 10-color NOVOFLEX® is an important part of their second expansion in three years.

The 52" wide, 10-color NOVOFLEX® is W&H's latest gearless, direct drive press. It delivers infinitely variable repeat lengths, consistent high quality at maximum speeds, and is designed for the fastest possible changeover times. Kendall's choice of the NOVOFLEX® is testament to their continuing quest for excellence and customer satisfaction.
