

Mohawk Northern Plastics shows its true colors.

For many years now, family-owned Mohawk Northern Plastics has been serving up flexible packaging products for the fresh and frozen food industries. Their "total package approach" includes new label development, advanced film extrusion, flexo printing, program management, and a W&H 41" 8 color NOVOFLEX®. The big news? They've just added a new W&H 52" 10 color NOVOFLEX® to the line.

Mohawk's loyalty to W&H is as impressive as their new capabilities. Choosing the right press was made a lot easier by their experience with the 8-color NOVOFLEX®. Says Mohawk Plant Manager Rich Shaw, "the primary consideration in the decision making process...was the 8 color W&H press. The delivery, installation, and start-up went precisely to plan, and the performance has exceeded expectations."

With the 10 color NOVOFLEX® in place, Mohawk boasts the newest gearless direct drive press, designed for the use of sleeves for the fastest changeover and engineered for consistently high quality at maximum speeds. Mohawk's Rich Shaw says it best, "W&H did not let us down."

Thanks for the vote of confidence, Mohawk.
